Newcomers Welcomed at Highlighter

By Celia Hunter

The structure of the Millbrook Highlighter, as with all volunteer groups, changes often, and this coming month, we say good-bye to one of our mainstays, but welcome a number of newcomers aboard.

Jocelyne Daw, for the past few years a regular contributor as columnist for the Historic Cavan series and other features, as well as advertising manager for the past year, is leaving us to pursue other endeavours. She has put in countless hours for the Highlighter, and her effort and enthusiasm will be missed.

While losing one member, we welcome three: Gord Wilson, who takes on the administration and co-ordination of the paper as general manager; Isabel McCoy, whom we welcome as our new advertising manager; and Joy Mitchell, who in addition to keeping up with the over 120 out-of-town subscriptions each month, has also volunteered to act as Features Editor.

It is easy to forget because of the calibre of the newspaper and the fact that it operates (from time to time!) out of an office, that it is in fact wholly a volunteer operation. This month the paper is issuing its annual appeal for funds. All money raised through this appeal will be used to offset expenses and purchase equipment and supplies vital to the continued operation of the Highlighter.

It is essential too that more volunteers come forward to offer help. If you have a few hours that you can commit each month to this worthwhile project, we have a job for you.

Mrs. Jean DeMille of Millbrook recently returned from the Leader Dog School for the Blind in Rochester, Michigan, where she received a young fully-trained leader dog and three weeks of intensive training at no cost to herself. This is one of the projects of your local Lions' Club. Mrs. DeMille addressed the Lions Club at their April meeting, relating her experiences in Rochester.

Garbage Standards set for Millbrook

By Celia Hunter

Millbrook Council has passed a by-law which requires residents to regulate all garbage put out for pick-up. The by-law is printed in full on page 14 of this issue of the Highlighter.

New standards include a limit of six containers of garbage per household per week, and impose limitations on weight and substance. All garbage must be left out in polyethylene bags, tied boxes, or standard garbage containers.

Inaugural Meeting of Fish and Wildlife Club Big Success

By Clayton W. Thexton

A group interested in forming a Fish and Wildlife Club held their monthly meeting in the Municipal Hall on April 2. This meeting was chaired by Darryl Sanderson.

Discussion centred around the direction the club should take, and agreement was unanimous that conservation through education and recreation should receive priority.

Lavern Gibson and John Williams, representing O.R.C.A. and Al McFadden from the Ministry of Natural Resources in Lindsay, all assured the group of their approval and support of their effort. 'One thing at a time, done well', were words of advice.

Matters for immediate attention were the erection of nesting boxes for wood ducks, bird houses, creating a waterfowl sanctuary, and the introduction of fish into Baxter Creek. This is not as uncomplicated a task as one may believe, and many factors were pointed out by McFadden. He also mentioned that Baxter Creek was one of the better spawning grounds for trout. Lavern Gibson pointed out many ways to make their efforts effective, and appreciated by the community. Mr. Williams stressed the necessity of being thorough, and that this area is one of great potential.

Beaver overpopulation was discussed and methods of dealing with this problem varied. Draining their ponds must be done with care, as flooding could result, with much damage. McFadden shared the fact that there were probably more beaver in the area now than in the days of the fur trade. Trapping has declined due to falling prices.

Long range plans were many, and discussed with much enthusiasm. The clearing of waterways, an archery and rifle range, and a course in woodcraft were some of the exciting possibilities.

In closing, Mr. McFadden emphasized that all projects be outlined in advance, and guidance be obtained from the proper source, as well as consent from all parties involved. Let the people know what you are doing, he said, why you are doing it and when. Project your goals, share your intentions, and do your utmost to carry them through.

Benefit Barbeque planned for June

St. John's in Ida reopens its doors after extensive tornado repair

Travellers on County Road 10 have been able throughout the winter months to witness the gradual restoration of the church and the rise of the new hall now adjacent to the church building. Some work has still to be done, notably the interior painting of the church and landscaping. With the Easter season approaching, the Rector, Reverend George Daley, and the Church wardens, Arthur Kilgour and Don Winslow, decided that the time had come for services to begin again in the church. The Easter service was the first in the church since last May. Over the past months services have been held jointly with Saint Paul's Church, Bethany.

The present church, which was built in 1866, is the third to stand on the site since the first church was erected in 1819. A number of changes have been made to the church over the years. The new hall is the latest change. Its facilities include an assembly room, kitchen, Rector's office, and rooms for the Church School and for choir use.

The facilities also include an accessible washroom for the handicapped and a ramp to the main door of the new hall. It is anticipated that the new hall will become a centre for activities for elderly residents living in the northern part of the township.

In the reconstruction of the church, the building has been preserved as it was before the tornado. Some improvements have however been made, notably a new gas furnace and better insulation.

The congregation of Saint John's, Ida, along with many friends of the church from this area, were able to return to Saint John's to celebrate Easter Sunday. It was a momentous event for all concerned.

Saint John's has been conducting a financial campaign for some time. Good progress has been made in reaching the target. The church is however continuing to make its appeal to anyone who is interested in seeing this important Cavan landmark restored. A number of fund raising activities will be held in the future. One of these will be a benefit barbecue on Saturday, June 28 when area residents will be able to tour the new facilities.

Rededication of the church and the official opening of the new hall will be on Sunday, June 29, at 7:30 p.m. with Bishop Desmond Hunt, Anglican Suffragan Bishop for the Peterborough area, officiating. Saint John's will no doubt start a new life continuing the faith and the foresight of the early settlers who built the first church.

Old Millbrook School presents a colourful evening in Ireland

Fred and Shirley O'Grady, through their slide presentation, will take you on a guided tour of Ireland. You will see the lovely Village of Adare, famous for the thatched cottages that line the street, visit the Muckross Estate and see the Lakes of Killarney. The breathtaking Dingle Peninsula, where the film "Ryan's Daughter" was made and the rugged coastline of the County of Kerry will lead you to Blarney Castle and the Vale of Tipperary to the city of Dublin.

You will see the famous hills of Donegal, Yeats Country and enjoy the haunting beauty of Connemara and Galway Bay.

If you enjoy lovely scenery and beautiful flowers, you will enjoy this presentation and the chance to learn more about travel in Ireland.

There will be a question and answer time after the presentation as well as a display of some artifacts that Fred and Shirley have brought back with them from their many trips to Ireland.

An Evening in Ireland will be held on Wed. April 23rd, 7:30 p.m. at the Old Millbrook School. A $3.00 admission fee which includes refreshments will be collected at the door.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Canada Day and Group Insurance Discussed by Chamber

Twelve members were present at the March meeting of the Chamber of Commerce. The main topic of discussion was the proposed plan for the upcoming Canada Day celebrations. Members of the Fair Board committee, Scouts, Firefighters and the Millbrook Recreation Committee were on hand to offer their suggestions and it is hoped that there will be representation from other groups at the April meeting. Last year's celebrations were a great success and hopefully this year's will be bigger and better. Get your thinking cap on for the "anything that floats" race and possibly some of us could get in a little practice paddling a canoe!

The Chamber members voted to donate $50 to help finance the cost of sending 3 Millbrook High School students to the United Nations Conference to be held at Queen's University in April.

There was discussion of a possible group insurance plan for members of the Chamber. This plan would offer sickness and accident benefits at a saving of 30% to 50% over a private plan. There will be more details available at the next meeting so if you are at all interested, plan on attending.

Registration forms are available at several outlets (Millbrook Deli for one) for all those would be fishermen who plan on taking part in the annual fishing derby on April 26 at the Millbrook Pond. Further information can be obtained from Gerry Deyell at 932-2105.

The Chamber hopes to rent a table at the Flea Market to be held at the Arena in May. We ask that anyone having "treasures" to donate leave them at the Deli over the next few weeks or phone 932-2997 to arrange for pickup. We'll be restricted to reasonably small items (no fridges etc.). We also hope to have a bake table. Any donations will be greatly appreciated.

The next meeting will be held on Wednesday, April 16 at 7:30 p.m. at the Cavan Council Chamber.

CAVAN COUNCIL NEWS

Volunteer Group to study Services for the Elderly

By Vic Norman

We are pleased to report that Gene Smith is back working in the township offices after a lengthy illness. Welcome back Gene.

This spring appears to have taken a real toll on our roads. The only thing that our crews can do is wait until the roads dry out sufficiently, in order that work can be done on them. The crews will be doing their utmost to correct the situation as soon as possible.

There is still no report on the new mill rate for 1986, however, Council is having a preliminary budget meeting on April 8 and a final one on May 6.

The Fire Department is to be congratulated for their participation in the house burning on March 23. Chief Buck assures me that a great deal of information was gained to help in training procedures for our men.

Cavan Township is again without a Dog Control Officer. We wish Jane McCubbin well in her new endeavours. Look for our advertisement in this month's Highlighter. On March 24 and March 25 there were separate meetings to discuss any needs or shortfalls in services in our area for the elderly and the disabled. As a result of these meetings, a small volunteer group emerged that is going to conduct an area-wide survey to get a response from the public. More information will be forthcoming. Many thanks to the very large group of interested people who attended.

A concern had been expressed about possible problems in Cavan Township as a result of the Jackson Creek Dam project, by the Otonabee Region Conservation Authority. Upon investigation, it is revealed that the dam will be built downstream of Lily Lake and that the only affected area is in Smith Township. This will be a "dry dam or weir". As well there will be no permanent body of water behind the dam, as it is to be used only during flood situations.

Cavan Council has a concern regarding the intentions by the Ministry for Floodland Preservation. This will have an effect on severance applications by farmers. To prepare a response to this paper, Council conducted a public meeting on April 8. Our response will be forwarded to the Association of Municipalities of Ontario who will be making the presentation to the Minister.

Cavan Township has sent a submission to the Ontario Government, for inclusion in their Bicentennial Time Capsule.

SOUTH MONAGHAN NEWS

Rabies Clinic Planned

We were saddened to hear of the death recently of Kathleen Alexander. Mrs. Alexander, who was Clerk-Administrator of the Township of South Monaghan for almost six years, had been ill for some time. Our sympathies go out to her husband and daughters.

The County of Peterborough are sponsoring a Rabies Clinic on April 26, 1986, from 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. at the Township Garage, on the 3rd Line, just east of Buckham Transport. Vaccination will cost $5.00 per animal. 1986 dog tags will be available. Dog owners are reminded that licences are $8.00 per dog until April 30, 1986, after which date a penalty will be imposed.

We were pleased to hear that the Land Registry Office for property in the Township of South Monaghan has been moved from Cobourg to Peterborough as of April 1, 1986. This move has been "in the works" since 1974, when South Monaghan became part of Peterborough County.

Cavan W.I. Studies Food Additives

By Annie Sharpe

The March meeting of Cavan W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. Joy McCamus. The roll call "Bring a label listing ingredients in a favourite packaged food" was answered by nineteen members present.

Mary Ann Yaromich, Rural Organization Specialist for Peterborough, Victoria and Haliburton Counties, was guest speaker. An entertaining and instructive film was shown on food additives. During her talk she stressed four reasons for the use of additives: to maintain nutritional quality; to increase storage time and decrease amount of waste; to increase attractiveness without being deceptive; and to aid in food processing.

Food additives are needed, she stated, because the population has grown and become largely urbanized.

A lively question and answer period followed her interesting presentation. A food additive questionnaire was answered by the ladies and a sheet of some common food additives was given to each member. On behalf of the members Annie Sharpe thanked our speaker and presented her with a small token of appreciation.

The business of the meeting included a report on the last district executive meeting by Beulah Robinson. This year the membership fee will be $4.00. The District Annual will be held at Bethany on May 15. The paper on the recommendations proposed by the Committee on Women's Institutes for the Future was mentioned. Nancy Mitchell offered to have photocopies made for each member so that they can be read and studied before the next meeting. In addition, a motion was passed that in the event of an emergency the executive may have the authority to spend money to the maximum of $100.00.

It was moved and seconded that the honorarium of $50.00 be paid to the secretary-treasurer.

A beautiful cosmetic bag was presented to the secretary-treasurer, Annie Sharpe, by Jean Tripp on behalf of all the members in appreciation of her work during the past four years. The thoughtful gesture and generosity is most appreciated by Annie and she also appreciates the cooperation of every member.

Our W.I. is justly proud that two of our members, Beulah Robinson and Jean Tripp, are going to attend the World Conference of Women's Institutes in Ireland in May. Eleanor Brooks made a motion, seconded by Nancy Mitchell, that a sum of "fun money" be given to each lady.

The sum of $20.00 will be donated as prize money for the spelling contest at Millbrook Fair. In addition, our W.I. has consented to cater to meals and lunches at the Fair on June 14. Plans will be made at the next meeting.

Eighty-Five Years Old! Millbrook W.I. celebrates birthday

By Jessie Powell

Sixty visitors from visiting institutes and our own members made up the 85th Birthday Party that Millbrook Women's Institute hosted at the Millbrook Legion on March 25. Decorations were carried out in the W.I. colours of blue and gold. On display were the Tweedsmuir History Book and other papers covering 85 years of interest and progress, plus a large birthday cake. Mrs. Wilson Larmer, President, was in charge of the program which included words of welcome, the Institute Ode, Mary Stewart Collect and the singing of O'Canada, with Mrs. Walter Fallis at the piano.

Congratulations and birthday wishes were brought from the Area President, Mrs. Wiseman and from the District President, Mrs. Barkwell, who mentioned that changes will be taking place in the W.I. She urged that all W.I.'s in the area put in displays at the local fairs.

Mrs. Gerald Larmer gave a resume of the highlights of the local Women's Institute over the past 85 years, and a humorous skit on changes in the time from 1901 to 1986 was cleverly acted out by Mrs. Ivan Porteous as Mrs. 1901 and Mrs. Albert Olan as Mrs. 1986. A sing song of several "oldies" also took place, after which a humorous poem "Early Days of the Institute" was read by Mrs. Gordon Davidson.

Correspondence from Mrs. Eileen Junkin and other letters were read by Mrs. Stephen Doyle.

"Aren't Birthdays Fun", a reading depicting the various aspects of Institute work was given by Mrs. Wilson Larmer, Chairlady; Mrs. Gordon Davidson, Changes; Mrs. Albert Olan, Membership; Mrs. Johnston Rowland, Programs; Mrs. Jessie Powell, Projects, Ways and Means by Mrs. Gerald Larmer and "Our Link with the A.C.W.W." by Mrs. Gerald Deyell. The meeting concluded with remarks by Mrs. Wilson Larmer and the singing of Happy Birthday.

Legion Auxiliary plans ahead

By Doris Ingham

At the meeting of the auxiliary to the Royal Canadian Legion, Br. 402, held on March 18 it was announced that the zone convention would take place in Havelock on Sunday, May 25. There elections would be held for zone commander and zone sports' officer.

The next day, May 26, the auxiliary of the Highland Creek Branch has invited the Auxiliary from Millbrook to have lunch with them, and they are considering engaging a bus for the trip.

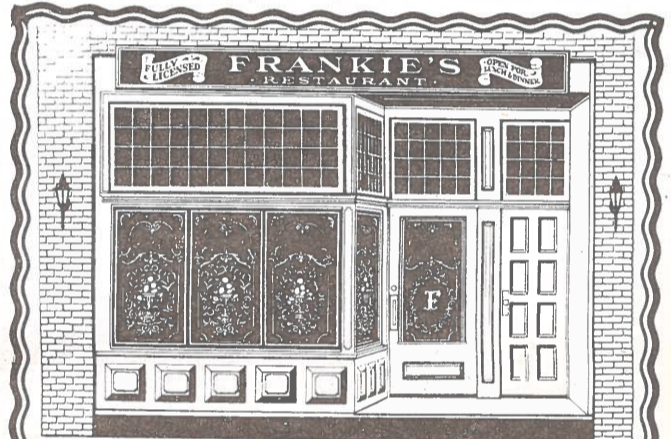

The provincial convention is to be held this year in September in Windsor. The auxiliary was advised to make reservations early for the two delegates they always send.

It was decided to donate $100 to the Easter Seal telethon on March 20, and to send $300 to the Command Bursary Fund.

Plans were made for catering to the Women's Institute luncheon on March 25, for the Loyal Orange Lodge dinner on April 11, and for the cribbage tournament to be held here on April 12.

The auxiliary's winning bowling team will take part in provincial finals on April 26 in Georgetown.

EDITORIAL

The Highlighter started out just over three years ago as a worthwhile but manageable hobby. It has exploded into an exciting and challenging operation. Right now though, it has outgrown its initial structure, and is in critical need of help from the community.

For the past three months, the skeleton crew here has been putting in dozens of extra hours, investigating and researching every angle, trying to come up with a more efficient structure for the Highlighter. We have looked at other community papers, researched technology, talked to scores of advisors and business-people, and tossed around idea after idea. Our children are far more familiar with their babysitters than they are with us.

Two conclusions have come out of all this: first, that the Highlighter has to remain, for now, a volunteer operation, run by members of the community; and second, that more interested and committed individuals are needed, to keep the newspaper in business.

Those of us who are already involved know how strong and positive the response has been to the Highlighter. Our advertisers are supportive and enthusiastic, and news from volunteer contributors has been pouring in. We are confident that there are talented and energetic people who would gladly put in a few hours a month to keep the Highlighter going; indeed, it has been our experience that everyone who has ever been asked to help out has gladly done just that.

If we haven't come to you though, please come to us. It wouldn't take much to make the Highlighter into a twice-monthly publication; something we think the community would really like to see. With an enthusiastic crew on board, we can do it.

We are, I think, a unique phenomenon. It is doubtful that any other community gets together to provide for itself a truly local newspaper of the calibre of the Highlighter. The Highlighter has a very important role to play in this community, and the future looks exciting.

Letters to the Editor Old Millbrook School's Art Show hailed a success thanks to all involved

As chairman of the Art Show and Sale held at the Old Millbrook School on Saturday, March 29, I am taking this opportunity to thank all of those who devoted time, energy and encouragement in making the undertaking a success.

Ten local artists set up and manned their own areas of the show. Participation on this scale requires a tremendous amount of time in the planning and execution on the part of every individual.

Well over one hundred works were displayed making it a show that the public saw as "well worth attending".

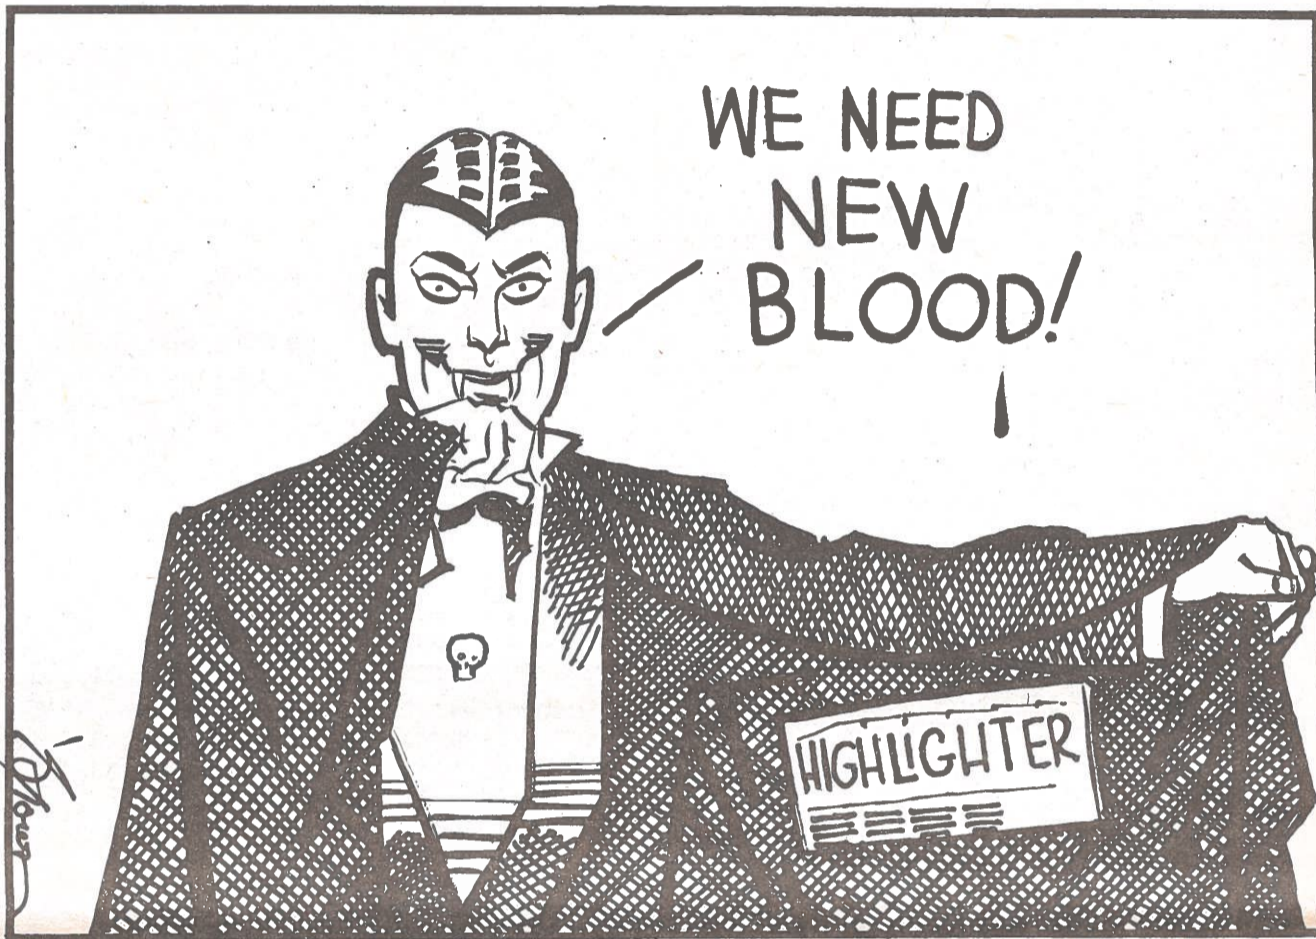

We who have been close to the project want to thank all of the people of Millbrook and area who came out in support of our effort. As important as the joy of effecting the occasional sale are the number of encouraging words of appreciation that the visiting public left with us.

Additionally we want to thank the good people who supplied and manned the coffee shop. Well done!

As always happens when one makes a "first attempt" at anything this show has proven to be a "learning experience" and none of this year's lessons will be lost. Plans are now in the works for a bigger and better show somewhere down the road. As the Leafs and Blue Jays are in the habit of saying "Just wait 'til next year".

Clarifying some Deyell history

I am writing to clarify some of the Deyell history which was mentioned in last month's issue. I have been working on it for quite some time.

At no time did John Deyell own the Mill by the pond in Millbrook. The deed went from James Deyell to Needler. I have a copy of the original deed for the mill and this is what it states.

James Deyell was a brother to John Deyell. James could not read or write. He had to sign his name with an X.

John built the mill for James. James had the money. James also owned all the property south of King Street to the pond including the fair grounds. This was called the Deyell Plan (or Subdivision). To my knowledge John Deyell only owned one parcel of land in Millbrook.

I have a big book full of the history of the Deyells.

I hope this will clear up a little of the misunderstanding over the Mill.

Thank you.

Gerald Deyell, Millbrook

Old Millbrook School hums with activity

Thanks to an enormous show of interest and support from the community the Old Millbrook School has been humming with activity this spring. The Take-A-Break calendar, the Art Show and the giant garage sale attracted over 1,000 visitors to the school in a five week period. The activities were enjoyable and financially worthwhile. About $1,700 were raised.

Fifty-four friends outside the committee gave of their time and talent or made donations during this time. The following community groups participated in some aspect of the month's program: Grace Presbyterian Church, Millbrook L.A.C.A.C., Millbrook and District Chamber of Commerce, Millbrook People for Peace the Millbrook Highlighter, Rice Lake Cadora and the Millbrook-Cavan Historical Society.

A special word of thanks goes to Ken Heaton who donated a beautiful butternut blanket box to the school project. Two hundred and fifty tickets sold within the first week!

Sap's running!

Nursery School Tours Brackenridge Sugarbush

By Donna Tapson

Sap rising in the trees and spring in the air made for a fine sugarbush outing on Tuesday, March 18. Thanks to the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brackenridge of Bailieboro, the small folk of Cavan Millbrook Nursery School were able to enjoy the sights and pleasant aroma familiar to the task of maple syrup making, using the old-time method.

A trip to the Brackenridges would never be complete without the adventurous sleigh ride to and from the bush. With Brenda at the reins and Michael assuring us, we all safely arrived at our destination.

No time was lost in tasting sap from one bucket and then on to the next. Everyone assured that all buckets held the same content, gathered to tour the steamy sugar house.

After all wide-eyed curiosity was reasonably satisfied, the children were treated to a sample of the finished product along with delicious homemade cupcakes!

Again, special thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Brackenridge, and Brenda and Michael Hudson, from all the children and parents alike!

Melville Ball Celebrates 80th Birthday

By Doris Ingham

On Sunday March 23 the Ball family celebrated Melville's eightieth birthday and held open house for their many friends. Melville Ball was born on March 19, 1906 on the Fallis Line and he has lived all his life in and around this community. The party was held at the weekend so everyone could attend.

On March 31, 1927, Melville Ball and Florence Larmer were married in Grace Presbyterian Church. They raised their five daughters and two sons here. Counting children, their spouses, grandchildren and great grandchildren 37 sat down to the birthday supper. The family dinner took place at the home of Melba and Roy Dawson.

One of the features at the dinner was the birthday cake decorated by Betty Lunn. It depicted a gardener in a straw hat, holding his hoe and looking out over a patch of green plants. Melville loves his garden.

Present were their daughters and their husbands, Melba and Roy Dawson, Leona and Allan Hutchison, Sharon and Robert McLean and Cynthia and Philip Guay. Their surviving son A.J. and his wife June were also there. Their daughter, Dorothy, who lives in California was not able to come, but plans to be here for her parents 60th wedding anniversary next year. Melville and Florence's other son, Herbert of Calgary died in 1984.

The open house was held at Leona and Allan Hutchison's home where more than 100 visitors signed the guest book. There were friends present from Fergus, Georgetown, Ottawa, Guelph, Toronto, Hampton, Peterborough, Dunsford, Port Hope and Bethany.

spring Honors and Awards night would take place on Friday, April 18 commencing at 8 p.m. The annual nominations meeting is slated for April 14, with elections to follow on Sunday, May 4.

It was decided to make George and Jake VanDam and Bill Pearse honorary Legion members and Hank Fisher an affiliate one in recognition of their work in the Preservation Barnyard Banjo band. This very busy group entertains seniors in hospitals, nursing homes and residences.

It was also decided to make John Palmer, a Legion member for 40 years, a life member. Two applications for associate membership were accepted. The membership now stands at 110 regular, 110 associate and ten life members.

Attention was drawn to the new clock on the wall, a gift from the auxiliary.

J.H. Raper is in charge of compiling a book listing the names of area residents who took part in the two world wars. To do this he is consulting churches, township offices and individuals.

The president, Lloyd Slack, was in the chair and conducted the opening and closing ceremonies. Plans were announced to present an honorarium to the secretary-treasurer, Margaret Dew, in appreciation of her work as treasurer, because she was not accepting the salary which had formerly been paid for that work. Margaret Baker is also to receive an honorarium for her work as bar chairman.

The branch voted $50 each to help with expenses to three Millbrook High School students who were attending the seminar on the United Nations at Queen's University in Kingston.

Soliloquy of A River

By Debbie Branscombe

For all of the seasons a river is alive, many creatures benefit from water and food to survive. In the spring, the flowers grow, and insects flourish, food for all. Water drips from the snow above, and new streams are born. Rapids are high in the springtime, and the river is deep and wide again. A moose eats all he can get in the flooded grasslands. A deer takes a drink. A bobcat fishes. There is abundant trout in the river; They lay their eggs on the bottom to be fertilized and hatched. Grass and other plants grow on the bank along with the mighty forest. Many birds are back here now They eat their food found along the river. Birds like the spotted sandpiper. In the summer it is warm, everything seems peaceful. A man and his son are in a canoe, taking advantage of the beauty nature has to offer. Two young boys are fishing, one so proud of his first catch. A box turtle watches as two bear cubs play. In the autumn life is still abundant. Animals are using their last days to gather food for the long, hard winter. The leaves are turning colors which add to the beauty of the river. The geese fly south and the other birds prepare themselves for the cold, harsh winter. In the winter, a blanket of snow covers giving warmth to those deep in the ground. Animals hunt for food. The river has shrunk, not as deep or wide as in the spring. But it will grow again and pass on it's life, as long as it is not killed before spring. From the river everything gains something Plants get water to grow. Animals have water and food to eat and drink. Fish have a place to live. Man eats fish from the river, and the river also gives knowledge, peace, and beauty for us to use. But what does man give to the river? Man feeds it poisons day after day. He dumps lethal chemicals into the water, killing all life. Chemicals like dioxins and PCB kill day in and day out. Man also kills by spraying chemicals on the land which get into the water. Man dumps toxic wastes onto the land which get into the water. As you can see, the river gives us much more than we give it. How can man be so careless when we all love the river.

South Monaghan Public School Presents Operetta

South Monaghan Public School is presenting their annual operetta again. This year it will be the Grapevine Connection, a musical revue that tells the story of communication throughout history. Most of the pupils in the school will be involved.

Performances will be Wednesday, April 30, and Thursday, May 1 at 7:30 p.m. Admittance is $2.00 for anyone over 14. Students are admitted free. Tickets will be available at the school, from students and at the door.

Careers Week Features Varied Slate of Speakers

This year, Careers Week at MIHS took place from April 1st to the 15th. Each year, since the Guidance class began at MIHS, the guidance students take the time to survey the student body to find out what careers that they would like to know about. Phone calls are made to arrange for speakers from the various professions to come to the school to talk to the students about their particular career. This year 21 speakers came to the school. The speakers were as follows: Earl Collins - Blacksmith, Capt. Jones - Recruiting Officer, Bryan Davis - Scuba Diver, Const. MacGee - O.P.P. Officer, Dr. Boaburger - Psychologist, Mr. Brackenridge - Farmer, Gary Hogarth - Criminologist, Larry Aikens - Conservation Authority, Dr. Neale - Dentist, Mrs. Brown - Nurse, Mrs. Boland - Real Estate, Miss Fran Fearnley - Journalism, Bob St. Claire - Five Counties Childrens Centre Representative, Doug Lavery - Computer Scientist, Mary Sutherland - Travel and T.V., Bill Juby - Sports

Broadcaster, Bob La Salle - Probation Officer, Nikki Wall - Child Care Worker, Dr. Hans Grieger - Veterinarian, Mrs. Grace Daw - Consumer Education, Brian Howe - Business Owner.

The speakers were in groups of two in each room. The morning was divided into three forty-five minute sessions with a ten minute break between. Homemade goodies and refreshments were provided for the speakers at intermissions by the Guidance class.

The second half of Careers Week involves a morning where the students of MIHS tour at various businesses in Peterborough and the surrounding area. This year the tours involved the following locations: Surgikos, Arc Industries, Peterborough Airport, Five Counties Childrens Centre, Taxidermy Shop, and the Brackenridge Farm.

Thanks are extended to the Guidance Class for arranging these activities and also to the guest speakers and the companies who hosted the tours.

Auction Planned

South Monaghan Public School will host a VIP auction on Friday, May 2 at 7:30 p.m. This is an auction of personal services and various articles provided by the community. The funds that are raised are to be used to buy new playground equipment for the school.

Talent Show A Hit!

The MIHS Integrated Arts and Music class produced a talent show, the "Main Event", held March 6 from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m. at the Cavan Township Hall in Millbrook.

Although most of the students participating in this show were integrated Arts students, there were a few other students who participated as well. These acts ranged from singing to dancing, and comedy skits to instrumental recitals. We had our local Julio and Willie singing "To all the Girls I've Loved Before", a song and dance by the Bad Brothers to "Smoking in the Boys Room", Shannon Wood (the daughter of one of our teachers) sang "Funny Face", and "The Sophisticated Ladies" with the song "I Miss You".

The audience seemed to thoroughly enjoy the performance. A lot of laughs were had by all, and we hope to see another "Main Event" soon!

New Businesses and Business People Set Up in Cavan Area

By Jocelyne Daw

ED. NOTE: Our communities are experiencing an exciting and invigorating growth spurt. Real estate markets are active, new homes are going up, and businesses are finding the atmosphere attractive. This is the first in a series looking at the new businesses and business people in the area.

BER-MAR

Ber-Mar Hair Salon and Women's Clothing Boutique will celebrate its first year in business in June and for its two owners, sisters Bernice Saarimaki and Marilyn Quzenko, the success of the operation is celebration enough. "We're really pleased with the way things have gone this year" says Bernice of the shop that is located above Frankie's Restaurant on King St., in Millbrook. "We've had a good response to our store."

That good response comes from the success the two have had in combining their flair for fashion and hair design with running a boutique that coordinates outfits along with a companion hair salon where you can get the latest hair styles, highlights, make-up and waxing treatment.

The idea for a combined salon/boutique came from Bernice's husband who thought the two would be naturals together. Bernice runs the boutique end of the operation stocking the latest in casual, sportswear styles for women. "We carry largely Canadian designers and manufacturers such as Kayser, White Stag, Bagatelle, Kates and Susan Van Heusen" says Bernice "and it is our goal to try to coordinate total outfits." This is in evidence as you go through the store, where outfits are designed as total ensembles. The two travel to Toronto each Monday to chose new outfits for the store, thus ensuring a constant change and variety of clothing. They also shop not only for the boutique, but also for individual customers who may request a certain colour blouse or pants to finish an outfit. "We do a lot of personalized shopping."

Marilyn, the other half of Ber-Mar, is a qualified hair stylist and runs the Hair Salon. This is the first time she has worked for herself in the almost 17 years she has been licensed. Marilyn keeps up to date with the latest trends in hair styling by attending numerous seminars throughout the year. In the past few months she has attended four speciality seminars and plans several more in the near future. She also carries a line of makeup from Germany in the Salon. The Salon was recently remodelled to give their clients more privacy during appointments, and a fresh cup of coffee and a friendly smile greet every customer.

MILLBROOK VALLEY PLUMBING

Jim and Isabel McCoy are familiar faces from the Millbrook business community, but they recently underwent a dramatic shift from mainstreet owners of a large Pro Hardware Store to running their plumbing business out of their shop on the 4th line of Cavan.

Jim and Isabel began Millbrook Valley plumbing 16 years ago when they settled in the village of Millbrook from Whitby. "We sent out a flyer and we were in business" recalls Isabel.

They never intended opening a hardware store, but when the village was without one for over a year they realized the need and opened their own Pro Hardware. They were originally located on the north side of King, but opened the new store in 1976. Isabel also for 3 1/2 years ran the Village Shop, a fabric store located where Frankie's is today. It was her intention to continue running her own store and help out in the hardware store that Jim would run along with the plumbing business. But when Jim's plumbing work continued to expand, Isabel found herself in charge of the operations of the store and she sold her share of the Village Shop.

Running the Hardware Store was a great challenge for her and she was one of the few women in Canada doing just that. They ran the hardware store for 12 years before selling out to employee Nancy Olan, featured later in this series.

Millbrook Valley Plumbing has always been a busy operation and now that they are running it only, Isabel who is the business manager has more time for her family and her various hobbies.

Jim, who came to Canada 30 years ago from Ireland, apprenticed as a plumber in Whitby where he worked before moving to Millbrook. His reputation as an honest and dependable plumber has resulted in a burgeoning business which initially employed himself, and today requires the additional help of two full-time assistants.

While Isabel and Jim have lost their mainstreet location, they remain today very much in business and Jim and his assistants can be seen throughout the area in their blue and cream vans with Millbrook Valley Plumbing stencilled on the side.

Join The Parade!

On Saturday morning, June 14, the area around the Millbrook Arena will be busy as entrants line up for the Millbrook Fair parade. Floats, bands, parade groups, horses, cars and commercial entries will begin to line up shortly after 11 a.m. to get set to push off at 12 noon sharp. The parade route follows the main street of Millbrook, west to the Medical Centre, then south to the fair grounds, in through the main gate and around the track to the horse ring in front of the announcer's stand. Many spectators line the parade route as the Millbrook-Cavan Fire Department leads the parade to the fairgrounds. The Sweetheart of the Fair and all contestants for this honour will be part of the parade.

Classes for parade entrants include: Best Antique Car, Best Horse and Rider, Best Decorated Pony, Best Old-Time Horse Drawn Vehicle, Best Decorated Float, Best Comic Entry, Best Parade Group, Best Clown, Best Decorated Bicycles (Girls and Boys 15 years and under), best pet entry (15 years and under), etc. Cash prizes are awarded in each category for the top 3 entries. Judging is done during the line-up and along the route.

The success of the parade will be determined by the number of entries, and of course, by the weather. We have been fortunate in the past to have an ever increasing number of entries. We encourage your participation this year. It is a good opportunity to contribute to the fair and show some community spirit. Whatever, your entry, come and parade with us. If you would like further information or would just like to let us know about your intentions to become involved, please phone Phil Winslow at 944-5513 or Leo Fallis at 932-2795.

MUSICAL NOTES

In Memoriam

By George Ingham

It seems to me that as this time of year approaches it is altogether appropriate that Canadian pianists pause for a moment to pay tribute to the memory of one who was surely among the greatest of their number.

On May 15, 1979, Sheila Henig, aged 44, was found slumped over the wheel of the family car, in the garage, dead from carbon monoxide poisoning. Perhaps her career was not yielding all the returns it might; perhaps the same could have been said of her family life. Still the act of suicide was a foolish one. Unbeknown to Sheila, several influential impresarios and conductors were at that very time planning to use her services in projects of national significance.

In her hey-day she had played to rave reviews in such musical centres as Vienna, London and Amsterdam. At home for a number of years she was the most frequently heard of all CBC soloists.

In conversation Sheila seemed to speak only of herself and the pieces she was playing. Usually I cannot stand egotistical, self-centred musicians. But for some reason I liked Sheila very much in a completely platonic fashion. I suppose the element of saving grace was her absolute seriousness and dedication to her work.

During Sheila's tenure

as a prize winning scholarship student at the Royal Conservatory in Toronto many student luminaries walked the halls. It was not unusual to see in the same day Glenn Gould and Lois Marshall in these corridors. (Many of the singers were dreadful flirts, but to the best of my knowledge, Lois Marshall would not flirt with anyone.)

With Sheila's passing I felt that a bulwark of my own armament had crumbled. The reason for this was that some of the concepts which I employ in teaching are based on ideas used on Sheila by her teacher.

Students Win Legion Literary Contest Awards

Annually, the Legion holds a Remembrance Day Literary Contest for students of both elementary and high school age.

Remembrance Day is a time when many people look back on the days of war, and remember those who died, and those who returned to their families. We remember both because all suffered.

The annual Legion Literary contest encourages students to remember the stories their parents and grandparents have told them. It encourages them to try and write down and understand their feelings towards war and its evil.

On Thursday, March 27, three first place winners were presented with trophies and certificates. These awards were presented to Cheryl Fallis - Senior Poetry, Jodi Chatterton - Elementary Short Essay, and Melinda Brown - Senior Short Essay, by Legion Representatives Mrs. Slack and Una Adding (District Youth Education Officer).

Congratulations to our District F - Zone 5 Legion contest winners! Keep those ideas flowing!

Library Board Welcomes Treasurer

The March meeting of the Cavan Millbrook South Monaghan Library Board was held at the Millbrook Library with full attendance of Library Board members and librarians. Geoff Elton was introduced and welcomed as our new treasurer.

It was with regret that the resignations of Mrs. Visee, Mount Pleasant, and Mrs. Carew, Bailieboro, were accepted. These two dedicated ladies have served their respective libraries for the past 10 years, since the inception of the Union Library Board in our municipalities. These positions are advertised elsewhere in this issue.

STONE SOUP

No diets on Tuesdays

By Evelyn Raab

We recently spent some time visiting cousins out of town. Barbara and I were quite close as we were growing up but since we now live so far apart we only see each other perhaps once a year. As I released my children onto this unsuspecting household I barely understood the effect that two small boys could have on a family whose one child only occasionally does anything noisier than eat cheerios. After a couple of days it became apparent that they were totally unprepared for this onslaught of creative energy (or at least that's what I consider it to be). It was then that I turned to Barbara and made the following observation: "You probably don't belong to a playgroup, do you? As I explained the finer points of Playgroup to her it dawned on me how unbelievable it must sound.

To the uninitiated, the theory appears quite harmless, pleasant in fact. One morning a week a bunch of mothers (fathers are permitted, but most don't have the fortitude to handle the experience) and their pre-school offspring gather at someone's home. The children play. The mothers drink coffee. Snacks are provided. The reality is far more frightening. There are usually eight or nine mothers. They are accompanied by as many as fifteen children under the age of 6. This can be quite awesome. Accustomed, as most of us are, to chaos, the mothers can usually be found calmly chatting in the immediate vicinity of the coffee pot while the children are running completely rampant and unsupervised throughout the house.

At various times, playgroup has functioned as a political forum, a clothing exchange, a marital counselling group, a sewing circle, a child therapy clinic, a babysitting service, meals on wheels, and a recipe exchange. Sometimes all at once. Oh, the kids also have fun, usually don't get injured and rarely ruin anything of great value.

But the real reason we go to playgroup is to eat. At times the snack table resembles the Pillsbury Bake-off. There is absolutely never a store bought cookie in sight and most things have at least some redeeming nutritional value. Amid the tantrums and debris of last week's playgroup I managed to collect up recipes for a few of the many notable munchies which have been ruining my diet every Tuesday morning.

Oh how we sacrifice for our children.

A PASTOR'S PERSPECTIVE

A Matter of Choice

By Rev. Lorne I. Trimble

An infidel died and left his farm 'willed to the Devil'. The courts, after deliberating on such an unusual set of circumstances, decided the best way to carry out the wishes of the man was to permit the farmland to grow up in weeds, allow the house and barn to deteriorate, and permit the soil to erode and wash away. The courts said, "The best way to let Satan have it is to do nothing!"

Few of us would claim to be infidels or plan to will our land or life over to the Devil, but here is a common story. We may do the very same thing by procrastination. We put off now what we know we ought to do. We look for a more convenient time. Postponement becomes the most popular method of avoidance. We say,

"Sometime I will take care of it" and as with the fields willed to the Devil, procrastination becomes the perversion of something good.

Today is all you and I possess. Yesterday is gone forever. We do not know about tomorrow. If we do not take advantage of today, we will look back upon the strength we once had in our youth and wonder were it has gone. Parents will look back to the time they should have spent with their children. One day we might wake up to see that for years the choicest privileges of life were within our grasp and for years we said, "Tomorrow".

Running all through life is such a thing as 'being too late'. Life does not wait. The gardener knows if he does not decide to grow flowers he will have weeds. September is too late for the trees to bud if there is to be fruit before the winter.

The greatest choices any of us ever make concern the question, "Who will guide my life?" All the rest of life will hinge on this decision. We may seek to put off a decisive commitment, yet this does not mean a decision is not made. No, like the infidel's lands, the best way to live one's life for the Devil is to do nothing about your life for God. The Bible entreats us to "Choose this day whom you will serve".

George Daley, and the reinstallation of six Lay Readers/Chalice Bearers, including Mrs. Dolores Joslin, who with the four previous Lay Readers, received their Licence and Badge of office from Bishop Hunt.

The use of the Book of Alternative Services included the entire congregation to join with the Confirmands in renewing their Baptismal vows. Many people expressed their appreciation at have the opportunity to join in this reaffirmation.

Eighteen young people from Christ Church, Bailieboro, St. John's Church, Ida and St. Thomas' Millbrook, were presented by the Rector for the Laying on of Hands. White 'Stoles' decorated in red with symbols of the Holy Spirit and their Christian names were worn by all the candidates.

The Bishop's timely message to the Confirmands, was based on the Old Testament reading from the Book of Jeremiah.

At the close of the service Bishop Hunt dedicated three Confirmation Banners which will hang in the home Churches of those confirmed.

A time of refreshment and fellowship brought to a close a happy and memorable day.

Congregations of Parish unite for special service

The Right Reverend Desmond C. Hunt officiated at a beautiful Service held in St. Thomas' Church, Millbrook, at which the six congregations of the Parish of Cavan-Manvers united.

The special occasion was three fold: Confirmation: the introduction of Captain Warren Joslin, C.A., as he begins his ministry as assistant to the Incumbent, the Reverend

Scouting aids Development

Every Spring, rain or shine hundreds of Scouts, Cubs and Beavers pull on their rubber boots, grab a pail and shovel and head for the woods. Actually there's no woods there yet, they're carrying it in their pails! The boys pair off, one drives in the shovel and prys open a slot in the fresh soil. The other gently puts a tree in the hole, making sure all the delicate little roots are tucked in and then they tramp the earth around the seedling and go on to the next one. They will plant between 20 to 30 trees. Multiply this by the hundreds of boys taking part and you have a new forest!

Why are they doing this? To reclaim wasteland for recreation and wild life sanctuaries, and to raise money for community and world-wide projects. They will be planting 12,000 trees this year on May 3rd, on a former ski resort. The last few years they planted in Cavan township.

How can you help? These boys will be coming to your door to ask you to support this program. You are asked to give your donation to them on that first visit so they won't be disturbing you twice.

Where does the money go? Seventy percent stays in the community for local activities and programs. Fifteen percent stays in the province for Leader training and workshops including the Native Peoples Project - the extension of Scouting programs and ideals to native communities in the far north. The remaining 15 percent goes to community development projects in Third World nations in co-operation with the Canadian International Development Agency and the World Scout Bureau. Projects include fish farming in Indonesia, fruit production in Jamaica, self reliance skills training in Kenya, woodworking trade school in Rwanda and more.

These children are learning to care for the environment and become World citizens by being aware of problems in other countries and working towards the solutions. Please support these boys - they are members of our community, training to become responsible citizens and leaders.

FARM TALK

Right to Farm

By Dave Brackenridge

We were encouraged to hear that Jack Riddell, Ontario Minister of Agriculture and Food, has established the Ontario Right-to-Farm Advisory Committee. This committee is charged with looking into the need for new measures to protect farm operations from complaints against normal farming practices and incompatible land uses. Farmers need some support in this area particularly when rural, non-farm people band together to harass them. Often farmers who lived in communities long before their present non-farm neighbours are being forced to curtail their activities. We even heard of a case in an Atlantic province where the court ordered a farmer to make a cash payout to his non-farmer neighbours for so-called "bad odours". Incidentally this case is being appealed and rightly so.

Many of us who have put up farm buildings in the last ten years or so have been obligated to follow a "Code of Practice." We have worked under OMAF guidelines and with the aid of agricultural engineers and livestock specialists have obtained "Certificates of Compliance" for our operations. These certificates have required us to design and locate our buildings certain distances away from roads, houses and property lines. We now find that municipalities may not stand behind our rights under these same guidelines.

We have had to build certain distances away from houses, roads, etc., but have not been protected from other building within the same distances of our existing operations.

As farmers, I believe we must be careful here to be responsible citizens. I don't condone practices which lead to pollution of air, water or land. We have to live and make our living in the rural community and we must be good caretakers of our resources. However, we must have some assurance that after making large investments under proper guidelines, we can continue to operate without a threat of harassment.

The Ontario Federation of Agriculture has long recognized the need for "right-to-farm" legislation. Our industry continues to face regulations administered by ministers with non-agricultural priorities. For example, the Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing promotes non-agricultural development in rural Ontario through the Planning Act. In addition, the Ministry of Natural Resources encourages aggregate development and wetlands protection to the detriment of our industry in many cases. And finally, the Ministry of the Environment attempts to regulate farm noise, dust and waste emissions using the Environmental Protection Act. The Ministry of Agriculture and Food is not the lead ministry in any of these areas and is regulated to a commenting role by these non-agricultural ministers.

Based on this information, OFA seeks "Right-to-Farm" legislation. The delegates agreed that such legislation should address the farmers' need to be protected from unwarranted court actions over nuisance claims and the need to provide a land protection option to allow local residents the opportunity to secure long-term provincial planning protection.

Finally the delegates agreed that the industry required a policing authority knowledgeable about the industry that can enforce orders and arbitrate disputes.

The Ontario Right-to-Farm Advisory Committee is holding a series of hearings around the province during April. I commend Jack Riddell for having the strength to tackle this issue - lets give him our support and ideas.

No Demolition Derby this year Agricultural Society plans new features for June Fair

By Judith Saunders

Early in February the new executive was elected for the Millbrook Agricultural Society. President, Tim Sargent; 1st Vice President, Bob Hall; 2nd Vice President, Mark Grove; Executive Directors John Vandeermeer and Leo Fallis. Judith Saunders was reinstated as temporary Secretary-Treasurer until a replacement has been hired.

The Ontario Association of Agricultural Societies convention February 18, 19, 20 was attended by Bob & Holly Hall, Judith Saunders, and 1985 Sweetheart of the Fair, Beverley Quibell. Beverley attended training sessions to help prepare her for the Miss C.N.E. contest in August where she will be representing Millbrook Fair. Many workshops were offered to the directors to assist in planning and staging local Fairs. A timely topic dealt with at length was insurance availability and cost.

The Society has plans well under way for this year's fair to be held June 13, 14, 15. One major change will be the Friday evening events. The demolition derby will not be held this year but in its place an evening of various draw competitions. Included will be 3 wheel ATC's, self propelled lawn mowers, 2 wheel drive stock trucks and 4 wheel drive mini stock trucks. The Fair Board feels this will provide an evening of exciting entertainment for community competitors and spectators alike.

The board is also looking forward to utilizing the new 100' by 50' exhibit building this year. It is expected that the ladies' and school exhibits, the concessionaires and the Cavan's Womens Institute will all share space in this much needed facility. The debt on this project has been greatly reduced by contributions from Cavan and Millbrook Councils, Cavan's W.I., Millbrook Orange Lodge, Squirrel Creek Farms and Pioneer Seed Corn. The board anticipates this debt will continue to be reduced by the support of our community.

The prize lists for the ladies section are now available from Marion McCamus 944-5441 or Judith Saunders 799-5389. Many hours are spent planning for events and competitions. The Fair Board encourages greater participation in 1986. They would appreciate any helpful comments or suggestions in order to stage a weekend suitable to all.

Peterborough Bull Test Sale set for April 26

The Peterborough Bull Test Sale has been announced for Saturday, April 26, 1986 at 1 p.m. The sale will be held at the Bull Test Station (2 miles east of Peterborough - 1 mile south of Hwy. 7 on the 10th line of Otonabee). The Sale Committee is looking forward to a repeat of last year's successful sale.

Twenty-two of the top indexing bulls will be sold out of approximately 92 completing test. Following an adjustment period, the bulls will have been on the official test for 140 days. The bulls have been weighed each month to monitor their growth. At the conclusion of the official test period, bulls are indexed, based on their average daily gain in comparison to the group with adjustments made for breed. Prospective buyers and interested persons may visit the test station. Members of the bull test committee will be on hand to provide information each Sunday from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m.

Most major breeds will be represented in the sale. There are no reserve bids. For further information contact the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food at 55 George Street North, Peterborough or phone 745-2403.

Remember, 4-H is a learning experience - "learn to do by doing". It offers the club member a chance to develop the four H's in all of us - head, heart, hands and health, while completing a 4-H club project.

4-H offers many exciting opportunities to the club member. You will not be sorry you said "yes" to the opportunity of joining a 4-H club. For more information, contact the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food in Peterborough at (705) 745-2403 or Zenith 16310.

PONTYPOOL NEWS

Community Notes

By Nettie Aiken

Your reporter wishes all her readers a happy spring season, as this wonderful time of the year has returned once again.

Congratulations to the Arbeau family. They have now officially adopted a baby boy, Joseph Paul Alexander Arbeau (named Joey for short). Of course Toby, Freeman and the girls are delighted to have Joey with them permanently.

There are ten houses (all sold) going up on the former Bernstein property, just west and south of the pond, under the ownership of Pine Ridge Homes Ltd., and developers Darcy and Dianna Mandzuk, which will create a new downtown area for Pontypool.

Grant Norris has successfully completed a course for Electrical Technology in Toronto. Just those Provincial tests to hurdle now. We wish all the best in your chosen career.

Mrs. Allan Bowins (Shirley) and older daughter Arlene, spent the week of the March break in Greece. Her younger daughter Tammy, along with Lisa Zubowski, Meher-Kaur Soligo and Vanessa Arsenaunt, were on a school trip to France, organized by the French teachers at I.E. Weldon Secondary School.

The sympathy of the community goes to the family and friends of the late Martha Mitchell of Ballyduff, who passed away in Strathaven Nursing Home, Bowmanville, on Tuesday, March 4, at the age of ninety-five. After the reception of friends at Northcutt Elliott Funeral Chapel on March 5, the funeral took place at Ballyduff Presbyterian Church on March 6. Interment later in Ballyduff Cemetery.

Those who attended the pot luck supper and program on Friday, March 21, enjoyed a real treat. Some of the best cooks and talented entertainers in this part of the country shared their abilities with a capacity crowd. A few ladies gave of their time to organize things in the kitchen. Thank you, ladies, very much. The program, with Master of Ceremonies, Bob Bolton, was first class, with a good variety. Some of the stars were a seniors fun group from the town of Whitby, the Whitby Jubilee Choir, of which Frank Stacey is a member. Some had never been to nor heard of a pot luck supper. The freewill offering, after expenses, was a little over $80, which amount was put on the church offering plate on Sunday, March 23. It is hoped now that this can become an annual event. Rev. Heather Smith shared a surprise birthday party with us as well. Margaret Quigley arranged this with Frank Stacey, with Rev. Smith's daughter Ursula baking the cake.

Your reporter was sorry to hear that recently, former Reeve George Neal, was a week in Ross Memorial Hospital, but is home now, taking it easy.

Friends and relatives from far and near joined with the immediate family in celebrating the fortieth wedding anniversary of George and Bessie Vandam. This happy event was held at the Manvers Community Centre on Saturday, March 8.

Thanks go out to both neighbours and businesses for their courteous reception and generous donations shown during the recent Red Cross canvass. Please receive your volunteer for the Cancer Society in April the same way.

On Sunday afternoon, March 23, the Manvers Figure Skating Club held a skating carnival at the Manvers Arena. It was of the calibre of the Ice Follies, and perhaps some of the skaters will make future Olympic contestants. Everyone had a chance to participate, and there was a good turnout to cheer them on. Many thanks to all who worked behind the scenes, including the pro, Rhonda Hogg, who put in many extra hours helping the children.

Still on skating, the Manvers Bergenhill Kennels Pee Wee A's are on their way to the All Ontario Hockey Finals. After many successful games, the team are All Ontario quarter final winners, and go on to play the winner of the Sundridge-MacTier series, the MacTier Pee Wees.

MacTier is south of Parry Sound, and it will be a best of 5 series for the All Ontario Semi-Finals. A win here would put a hockey team from Manvers once again in All Ontario Finals. This has been quite an accomplishment for the local boys as this is the first time they have been this far in their level. A big thanks to their coach, Dwayne Medd, their Manager, Bart Medd, and Trainer, Rolph Dunn.

The Manvers Historical Society is planning an Annual Meeting in the month of April at Grandview School, with Speaker, Wes Eardley - "Know Your Antiques and Collectibles." Members will be telephoned when a date is finalized.

A profitable, pleasant evening was shared by those who attended the Home and School Association General Meeting in the library of Grandview School on Tuesday, March 4. The main theme was Education for Exceptional Children. The main objective is to help, with the least possible departure from integration at the local school, these children to get the best education possible. Even the special residential schools are aimed at getting the child back to the local school as soon as possible. To organize this type of thing, there has to be a lot of human effort and cooperation. Keeping the peer modelling is important.
